Q Grass – at the cutting edge of landscape design innovation

Q Gardens, a subsidiary of Quadriga Concepts, specialises in virtual grass – Q Grass – for the commercial and leisure markets, offering an aesthetically pleasing alternative to natural grass.

Q Grass will transform wasted roof space into an urban retreat, or a muddy space into a maintenance-free virtual grass area. Of particular interest to corporate clients, local authorities, hotel and leisure companies, Q Grass is ideally suited for applications that, when grassed naturally, demand high maintenance, such as hotel grounds, commercial landscaping, leisure centres, golf practice areas, road central reservations, verges and garden. The Grass is also the ideal solution for areas which have poor drainage or are heavily shaded – areas where conventional, natural grass would not thrive.

All Q Grass surfaces are U.V. stabilised and come with lengthy warranties. Supplied in four metre wide rolls, 25 or 65 metres in length, Q Grass is fitted by highly skilled professionals from Q Gardens.

The range includes textures and pile heights to suit many applications, simulating the natural grasses it replaces.

From the most modern to the more traditional space Q Grass will produce a great looking landscape year-round – with virtually no maintenance.

An incredible saving

Inevitably, the perception is that the benefits of Q Grass come with a heavy price tag. "Will it cost more than laying and maintaining traditional soil and turf?", is the question that most people ask.

A recent cost comparison between the two methods revealed that a ten-year installation and maintenance contract for an area covering 450m<sup>2</sup> would cost £48,150 for soil and turf compared to the Q Grass solution, which would cost £20,250. This comparison represents an incredible cost saving of £27,900.
